

Foundations of Restorative Justice in the Built Environment: Telling Stories, Preserving Places

Interdisciplinary Dialogue Series (#2)

Fire Drill Fridays rally in Washington, D.C. Photo courtesy of Ted Eytan via Flickr.

Dialogue #2

September 15 | 5:30 - 6:30 pm | Hybrid

This session will address the questions:

- Why and how storytelling, power-sharing and community engagement are vital in processes for preserving stories and places?
- When and how do they become instruments of restorative justice in the built environment?

Dialogue Participants

- Dr. Tyeshia Redden, Africana Studies, Gettysburg College
- Dr. Andrea Roberts, University of Virginia, School of Architecture
- Dr. Magdalena Novoa, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, Latin American Perspectives, CARE
- Dr. Michelle Magalong, Assistant Professor, Historic Preservation, MAPP+D

Registration required

JEDI Collaborative

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE,
PLANNING & PRESERVATION

TERRAPIN
STRONG

go.umd.edu/restorative_justice2