The Public Space Unit is responsible for engaging New Yorkers to reimagine and utilize their city streets as public space through a series of application-based programs. These programs include Open Streets, Street Seats, Shared Streets, and Plazas. The successful candidate will provide planning, design, implementation, and analysis support for critical Open Street and other public space projects in all 5 boroughs. The candidate will need to work closely with internal DOT units and partner organizations to deliver designs that meet the program goals and maintenance standards. The position requires close coordination with multiple city agencies, Business Improvement Districts, and other community-based organizations. Other tasks include site inspection and field analysis, preparing and giving public presentations, reviewing designs, attending design meetings, creating public space event and concession layouts, creation and synthesis of public engagement tool and surveys, and program tracking and mapping. The ideal candidate will be expected to be familiar with public space design and management issues. This is an opportunity to work with a team dedicated to enhancing commerce, community, and culture in the public realm while improving safety, accessibility, and walkability throughout New York City. The selected candidate will be expected to work collaboratively and inclusively, seeking to cultivate continued professional development and effectively communicate with all stakeholders. The ideal candidate should have experience in managing budgets and grants, meeting milestones, and compliance with all city, state and federal oversight rules and regulations. The candidate will be responsible for ensuring adherence to all agency safety rules and regulations in creating a safe work environment for themselves and colleagues, ensuring all safety equipment and gear are used and worn properly where/when required.
